

New Security Directive Affecting Non-U.S. Origin Cargo

May 23, 2011

Dear United Cargo Customer,

The U.S. Transportation Security Administration (TSA) has issued a new Security Directive effective May 27, 2011. This Directive mandates changes in security measures applicable to cargo shipments originating on flights outside the U.S.

As with previous Directives, a Master Air Waybill Statement is required at time of tender. This Statement attests to the duration of the business relationship between the forwarder and the shipper or consignee. The revised mandatory wording of this statement is below.

The following statement must accompany all MAWBs tendered to United Cargo originating on non-U.S. origin flights:

All shipments tendered in this MAWB were received directly from a shipper, or other person with an established relationship with _____ (insert name of regulated agent or freight forwarder) for at least 180 calendar days, which has an established shipping address, and a payment, credit, or invoice history of at least 180 calendar days OR a person originating or tendering a shipment where _____ (insert name of regulated agent or freight forwarder) has an established business relationship or payment, credit, or invoice history with the consignee or bill-to party of at least 180 calendar days.

Note: A business relationship is defined as an association between persons ("persons" includes individuals and entities) that may also include a documented history of sales contacts or activities, other documented correspondence, or business records.

The statement may be tendered on a separate document or added to any existing shipping documentation. The wording of the MAWB Acceptance Statement shown above replaces the versions required by previous directives.

Please note that shipments tendered on MAWBs without the statement above may still be accepted, but will be subject to additional security measures.

If you have any questions on this issue, please contact your United Cargo Sales representative. As always, we thank you for your business and your continued support.

Very truly yours,
United Cargo
